Red Cross Issues Emergency Call

County And Local Chairmen Chosen

Canvass Of The Town Will Be Made

In order to be prepared in advance for any disaster, the American Red Cross has formulated a plan by which Disaster Preparedness Committees are organized in every county-chapter in the country, with local disaster committees in the towns. Hon. John W. Haigis is chairman of the Franklin County Chapter Disaster Preparedness Committee. A. P. Pitt has been selected to represent Northfield on that committee, and also to serve as chairman of a local disaster committee.

Other members of this local committee, with aspects of work for which each member will assume responsibility in case of disaster where the Red Cross comes into action, are: Food, clothing and shelter for disaster victims, George Carr; Medical Aid, Dr. Allen H. Wright; Transportation and Communication, A. G. Gordon; Finance, Wm. F. Hoehn; Registration and Information, A. P. Pitt.

The last disaster that visited Northfield when Red Cross relief was sought and secured was during the Connecticut River flood in November 1927. Let us hope that the town may be saved from further disasters, but in case of need the above committee will be ready to help.

The Pan-cake Supper

The Pan-cake Supper given by the Sewing Society of the North Church last Friday evening was a great success netting the ladies $66.28. The Pillsbury Flour Mills furnished and made the pancakes also furnishing the syrup. The sausage and cheese came from Barber's. L. G. Store, East Northfield, "the place to get first class home-made sausage."

"Our pickles came from the new Economy Store, Northfield. These stores gave a discount on things purchased. The A. and P. gave us all our coffee and napkins, also furnished the coats the boys wore while pouring the excellent 'Bokar'."

The Committee was: Mrs. Lawrence Lazelle, Mrs. A. P. Pitt, Mrs. A. Pearson, Mrs. Billings, Mrs. Maynard, Mrs. Black.

"As Husbands Go"

The Franklin County Smith College Club, of which Miss Myra B. Wilson, Principal of Northfield Seminary is President, is sponsoring a performance of the Galloway Players in "As Husbands Go" at the Greenfield High School Auditorium, at 8 o'clock on Monday, April 16.

This is in the endeavor to raise money for the scholarship which is awarded each year to a resident of Franklin County attending Smith College. The tickets are 75c and 50c. As the play is said to be amusing and diverting it will probably appeal to many Northfield people; and, as Northfield girls are eligible for the scholarship, it seems a cause in which all would be interested.

The Galloway Players were much liked in their performance at the Seminary last month of "The Lark Christopher Bean."

Going To Church

The President with his wife and mother and other members of the family attended church last Sunday. That is news only in the sense that all the doings of the first citizen are of interest to all his countrymen.

All our Presidents have been church-going men. They have differed widely in their religious ideas. They have attended services which varied greatly in character. President Roosevelt is an Episcopalian. His predecessor went to "Quaker meeting." Coolidge was a Congregationalist, Harding a Baptist, Wilson a Presbyterian, Taft a Unitarian.

Why not try the plan yourself? This Lenten season offers the best of opportunities for an experimental venture. Churches of all denominations in all parts of the city are available for worship almost any day. A few now hold services every day.

In these days of unrest, with the uncertainties of the future pressing heavily on the mind, the church may well seem a haven of hope and peace. If the interval has been long since last you attended you may appreciate the fact that will be read from the inspired lives of all the people in the land. The hymns perhaps will bring back recollections of your old home. It will be strange, indeed, if the sermon does not contain some passage of value for your own situation. Maybe you can find that thrill you have been seeking, and in the one place where you have not looked for it.

Married Fifty Years

Mr. & Mrs. S. E. Whitmore Will Observe Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen E. Whitmore announce the coming of their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Friday, March 30, when they will give a social evening in Alexander Hall from 8 to 10 o'clock in celebration of the event. They extend a hearty invitation, through the Herald, to their friends to meet them there at that time. No gifts.

Brotherhood Meeting

Reported by Harry A. Erickson

The regular monthly meeting of the Northfield Brotherhood occurred last Tuesday night in the vestry of the Trinitarian Church with about 60 members attending. A baked-bean supper was served. President L. L. Norton presided at the business meeting. The advisory board proposed an amendment to the constitution providing for a change in the allocation of the funds, 90% to be devoted to the regular expenses, and 10% for the benefits. At present it reads 75% and 25% respectively. R. E. Bruce was admitted as a new member.

Dr. Charles W. Merriam of Deerfield, who has recently returned to Franklin County after more than 20 years pastorate in Detroit, was the speaker of the evening. Dr. Merriam has charge of the religious services at both Deerfield Academy and at Eaglebrook School, as well as supervising the work of two churches in the village. At the meeting of the Brotherhood the speaker emphasized the need of Puritan ideals, and by that he did not mean the narrow, conventional, and erroneous impressions that most people have of the Puritans.

"The Puritans were the Rede, the Bolsheviks, the Radicals of their day," Dr. Merriam asserted. "They had the courage to smash ancient institutions if they did not fit the need of the people. What else we may think of some of the economic principles of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the important fact remains that he has the courage to do the same as did the Puritans—break the way for social reforms that will fit the needs of the people today."

In conclusion the speaker stated that the world was suffering a depression, and that he knew of no better remedy than to follow the principles of the teaching and the life of the Man of Galilee.

Seminary News Notes

The spring vacation at the Seminary begins Friday, March 23. The girls will return April 6. Weston defeated Marquand and won the character swimming cup. Marquand as runner-up receives the small cup.

The Industrial Relations Group of the Northfield Seminary church has voted to join the L. I. D. A representative of that organization spoke in East Hall, Saturday afternoon to members of the group.

The chapel speaker at both services on Sunday was the Rev. William P. Schell of New York City. Mr. Schell who is a secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian church, spoke to the World Outlook Group of the Church on Saturday.

Prof. Ralph Harlow of Smith College lectured Friday on The Race Problem to both of Miss Kay Rogers' Bible VI classes. Prof. Harlow and his wife and daughter, Betty, had lunch at Marquand Hall.

The Marquand team, captained by Bayley Bance, has won the basketball championship and cup. They defeated East, Gould, and Weston in the intramural games. Weston as runner-up, receives the small hall cup.

Marquand's swimming team defeated the Gould team in a meet at the Munger Pool on Monday morning.

The Sigma Delta Epsilon play "Seventeen" was presented in Silverthorne Hall on Saturday night. Betty Hall of Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y. who played the lead, showed great ability and Virginia Bruce of Athol, as little Jane Baxter, was outstanding in her portrayal of the part. Lois Pratt, played by Caroline Bradley of Waterbury, was also exceptionally well done. The play was a great success and was well received by the audience.

A day in the slums will be an interesting part of the Easter vacation for several Northfield Seminary girls when members of the Industrial Relations Group of the school church under the leadership of Chaplain Ingalls meet in New York on April 3 for a tour of the lower East Side. Among the places the group plans to visit are: Box City, a temporary shanty town on Houston Street near Broadway; Zero's Old Bucks and Lane Ducks Club; Kasherbocker Village, a new housing development in the heart of the slums; Salvation Army's Gold Dust Lodge; and the Bowery Hotel where a quarter pays for the best room in the house. The girls will have lunch at Bernard Macfadden's One Cent Restaurant on Bleecker Street, where a good ten cent table d'hôte meal is served.

Henry E. Bemis Mt. Hermon Graduate

Dies At Palm Beach, Fla. After An Accident

Following close upon the death of his sister, Mrs. Gertrude Bemis Ritter, of Highland Ave., who passed away on Thursday the 15th, Mr. Henry E. Bemis, 63, died on the 18th at Palm Beach, Florida. Mr. Bemis was injured about three weeks ago when he was knocked from his bicycle by an automobile. He was known to thousands of persons who spent their winters along Florida's east coast through his management of the Florida East Coast Hotel Company's chain. Mr. Bemis was born in Shelburne Falls Jan. 30, 1871. He graduated from Hermon School in 1891 and has been a very liberal contributor to the school's development and success. He married Miss Inez Jackson Ausley, who with their son Henry L. Bemis, survives him.

High School Notes

Monday Miss Gladys Sivert, Home Demonstrator of Greenfield, spoke to the girls of the Home-making, Economics, and Occupational Classes on Home-making as a vocation. She mentioned the following fields of work: Home-making instructors, H. Club Leaders, Home Demonstrators, Social Service Workers, Dieticians, Demonstrators in Food, Dressmaking, Department Store Advisors for the selection of clothing, Designers, Interior Decorators, and Child Psychologists.

She suggested Massachusetts State Colleges at Amherst and at Framingham as suitable places for training at nominal costs.

Miss Sivert also spoke on clothing, etiquette, and foods, stressing especially in the adequate diet.

These nice days find the boys working out a little in baseball preparatory for intensive practice after the spring vacation, which begins Friday.

A fair crowd turned out for the Athletic Association of the Northfield High School plays Tuesday evening. These were given for the purpose of helping the boys with their athletic program for the spring.

Three interesting plays were presented. A stolen ring was the inciting force of "Not on the Program." Rastus Brown (Ralph Reed) and Ophelia Johnson (Evelyn Johnson), colored plumber and maid, wanted to save a hundred dollars so that they might marry and have money enough to furnish four rooms. A reward of One Hundred Dollars for the discovery of the ring gave them their chance and Rastus set to work to show Ophelia "that he loves her." Mrs. Murray Whitney (Jean Giebel) is in a play and her practice with Vincent Fielding (Milton Twyon), a dramatic instructor, leads to the assumption that they are responsible for the loss of Mrs. Jones' (Edna Silva) ring. Officer Hogan (William Ross) was called by Rastus and Mr. Whitney by Ophelia and the mixup was complete. After a few minutes scrambling around the stage, Rastus retired to turn off the water and discovered Mrs. Jones' ring in a water pipe. Miss Evelyn G. Lawley was the coach of this comedy.

In "D-298", Billy, a glorified office boy, (Philip Mann) tells May, a stenographer (Polly Podlanski) that he is leaving shortly because he is tired of being just a "cog in the wheel" of Mr. Ebbs' (Joe Butinski) efficiency. Miss Pratt (Barbara Cota) is much surprised to discover that he is planning to leave, although she knows Mr. Ebbs is planning to release Billy. The advertisement in the paper D-298, which Billy has answered for another position turns out to be Mr. Ebbs' advertisement and Billy becomes William Blake up to a higher salary and an assistant to Mr. Ebbs instead of an office boy. Miss Julia B. Austin coached.

"The March Heir" is a story of the tribulations of Jefferson March III (Robert de Veer) the grandson of the famous poet. His house is besieged by admirers of his too-famous grandfather. Job which Marion Carmen's (Rena Tyler) father found him became distasteful when his name gave him away. Although the sympathies of Dick Carmen (George Farley) and Mrs. Rogers (Elizabeth Hawcroft) the housekeeper were with him. Marion decided he is "lax" and a "dilettante." When "Newton MacDougal" came up, thinking he was "just another tourist" like Mrs. Judd (Margaret Gray), Dick takes Jeff's place and attempts to drive him away although it turns out that he is from Hollywood to sign Jeff up as technical director of a picture on his grandfather's life. Thus, Marion and Jeff may get married immediately. Mr. Charles A. Farnsworth Jr. coached this play which was presented with the courtesy of Samuel French.

All actors did well and it is to be regretted that the townspeople found more important engagements. Miss Elizabeth Auchincloss sang two selections and made by the High School Orchestra enlivened the intermissions.

Women's Glee Club Of Wheaton College

Will Give Concert Here Wednesday, April 4

The Women's Glee Club of Wheaton College, Wheaton, Illinois, will give a (sacred, varied) concert at the Trinitarian Congregational Church on Wednesday evening April 4th at 7:30 o'clock. A free-will offering will be received. This club is an organization of thirty-four beautifully balanced women's voices directed by Mignon Bollman Mackenzie, renowned leader and soloist, a master in accomplishment. Although the Glee Club presents both sacred and secular programs, it is unusual in its interpretation of sacred music. The group brings out the beauty of the true Gospel message through early 14th and 15th century compositions as well as through hymns and anthems of our own day.

Wheaton College is proud to send out its glee club, which has been highly praised by eminent musical critics in the middle western and eastern states. Prominent directors, including the leader of the Westminster Choir, have remarked that the Wheaton College Women's Glee Club is superior to any other women's choruses which they have heard.

For the past few years the club has traveled through the East, presenting concerts in Columbus, Buffalo, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Wilmington, and intermediate points.

In addition to numbers by the entire group, special features will be presented, including piano, organ, flute, trombone, and violin compositions, also vocal solos, trios and readings.

Local Church Honors

Dr. Charles W. Elliott

The local Unitarian Church, together with Unitarian churches throughout the United States, had a special service last Sunday in memory of Dr. Charles W. Elliott, president of Harvard University for forty years, whose one hundredth birthday anniversary was March 20, 1934.

Rev. Mary Andrews Connor, the pastor, took for her subject the challenge of Jesus, "So let your light shine that men may see the good you do, and glorify your Father in Heaven." She said Dr. Elliott stands out as one who successfully met that challenge. Born in Boston March 20, 1834 he passed the age of 92 and died April 22, 1926.

He came from a long line of intellectual New Englanders who upheld the old Boston tradition when that city was at the height of its fame as the cultural and intellectual center of the New World. Dr. Elliott was a Unitarian, like his father and grandfather, who had worshipped at King's Chapel, Boston, Mass. He himself was a member of the First Parish Church in Cambridge, Mass., and all his life was a staunch defender of the Unitarian faith.

Dr. Elliott graduated from Boston Latin School in 1849 as a Franklin Medal honor student. In the fall he entered Harvard, graduating in four years as a Bachelor of Arts. The following year he was made a tutor in mathematics at Harvard, and four years later he was promoted to the position of assistant professor of chemistry and mathematics. In 1861 he was placed in charge of the chemistry department of the Lawrence Scientific School.

His appointment as president of Harvard University came in 1869, at the age of thirty-five. He continued as president until 1909.

Northfield Ptg. Co. Prints The Winners

The Hermonite Leads The Star Advances

Appreciative Words From Their Editors

The Northfield Printing Company, commercial printers as well as publishers of the Northfield Herald may well be pardoned in sharing the honors that have recently come to the Hermonite and the Northfield Star, student publications of Mount Hermon School and Northfield Seminary, in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association contest.

The Printing Company's pleasure is derived mainly from the generous words written by Mr. Harry A. Erickson, Faculty Advisor of the Hermonite and by Miss Eva Freeman, Faculty Advisor of the Star, and addressed to Mr. Henry R. Gould, President and General Manager of the Printing Co. "In behalf of the Hermonite" writes Mr. Erickson, "I wish to congratulate you and your staff for the splendid work you have done in printing our paper this year so that the very highest prize could be won at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Contest." And Miss Freeman writes "We of the Star greatly appreciate the assistance given us by Mr. Gould in building up our paper which has moved up from 4th to 3rd place among the 650 publications entered in the Contest." Wallace F. Keith was editor-in-chief of the Hermonite during the past year and will continue, nominally, in that position till the end of the school year, when Alvin D. Johnson, the newly elected editor will take up the work. Miss Ellen Newton Editor-in-chief of the "Star" this past year was the recipient of a notable honor at the Columbia Contest in that she was chosen as one of twenty girls out of 1500 to assist in editing the conference number of the "Columbia Spectator."

Brooklyn Girl Bolts Food

And Screws It Down

Changes Her Diet After Five Years

According to an Associated Press report as published in many papers last Tuesday, Miss Mabel Wolf of Brooklyn developed a taste for hard food while working in a hardware store. In the course of five years a considerable portion of the stock was used for dietetic reasons. At last she discovered she had eaten too much. A pain in her tummy sent her to the hospital. The surgeon did the rest. He went after the hardware and removed from her stomach 47 large bolts; 37 small bolts; 86 large screws; 37 small screws; 684 upholstery tacks; 144 carpet tacks; 3 picture frame hooks; 3 safety pins; 83 straight pins; 69 assorted beads; 4 pieces of wire, 39 pieces of glass and one tea cup handle, besides certain miscellaneous articles not classified. When the operation was over her first request was for something to eat. "Don't worry about that," said the doctor, "but remember it will be food, not nails."

Editorial

With the statement which is appearing in many of our leading newspapers that there are in our country probably as many gangsters organized at least in groups, if not nationally, as we have soldiers in the U. S. Army, the question "What are we going to do about it?" becomes of tremendous significance. It has come about that our criminals are not worrying about methods of defense from the attacks of out-raged society, but society is on the defensive against persistent and outrageous crime. We are not yet however on the run. We are facing the situation at least hopefully and with a degree of courage that suggests the probability of increased courage rather than less. A striking example of aggressive activity, of which we hope to hear more, was recently begun in Boston by our own honored Herbert C. Parsons. At his request fifty outstanding citizens came together for the serious discussion of some very serious questions. Here are some of them:

Are we doing all that can reasonably be done to hold our wayward boys in check, to guide them properly before a court stigma is on them and to direct them after they have run afoul of the criminal law? Are our public and our private agencies well co-ordinated? Are they all supplementing one another as they should? Have we really accomplished a maximum of good in Massachusetts since we set up our juvenile courts and enacted our juvenile delinquency laws twenty-five or 30 ago? Is not the early maturity of our criminals some evidence that the young are not responding adequately to corrective influences?

Here is something to engage the thought, the time and the talents of all who hate iniquity. Extremists Catholics, Jews, the courts, the schools, the press, in fact every agency that can exert an influence must awaken to the call before it is too late. Even in a quiet village like our own we should be concerned, if not for our own sakes, then for the sake of our children. The hot-beds of crime are the cities; the cities call loudest to our young men and young women and the most of us perhaps will some day see our boys and our girls answering the call.
Shall we not then strengthen them to the full extent of our powers against the possible day of temptation and danger? If we don't, who will?

A Letter

To the Editor:—

Yesterday was the 159th anniversary of Edmund Burke's Speech of Conciliation with the American Colonies. If the political leaders of the nation today could study the underlying principles of that great speech and act on them, the problems of disarmament, security, peace, and justice would soon be solved. But, just as Burke pleaded in vain with a king who could not see beyond the satisfaction of his own personal power, so do most of the leaders of the people today fail to see beyond their own national boundaries. A quotation from the speech is timely.

"The proposition is peace. Not peace through the medium of war; not peace to be hunted through the labyrinth of intricate and endless negotiations; not peace to arise out of universal discord, fomented from principle in all parts of the empire; not peace to depend on the judicial determination of perplexing questions, or the precise marking the shadowy boundaries of a complex government. It is simple peace, sought in its natural course, and in its ordinary haunts — it is peace sought in the spirit of peace, and laid in principles purely pacific.
Plain good intention, which is as easily discovered at the first view as fraud is surely detected at last, is, let me say, of no mean force in the government of mankind.
Genuine simplicity of heart is a healing and commendable principle."

The friends of Mrs. Bessie Holton sent her a Sunshine Box, Thursday to help her while away the long, weary monotonous hours.
She has been seriously ill for several weeks and is cared for by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Philip Holton, of Hinsdale, N. H.
Ralph Tyler returned to his home in Bristol, Conn., Friday much improved in health after having spent two weeks with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. George E. Tyler.

His brother Carey Tyler carried him as far as Springfield, Mass., by auto. Mr. Tyler has been seriously ill with heart trouble for several months.

There will be a choir rehearsal at the parsonage, Friday evening, March 23, at 7:30 o'clock to prac-hand.

Last Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. George A. Gray spoke from the subject, "Reversing Life's Appeal." In the evening from "Jesus of Nazareth Passion By." At the close of the service, Mr. and Mrs. Gray gave a very touching account of the dangerous illness of their little daughter Nina and of her being healed so as to return home Tuesday from the Brattleboro Memorial Hospital, after having been much improved.

America here they are!

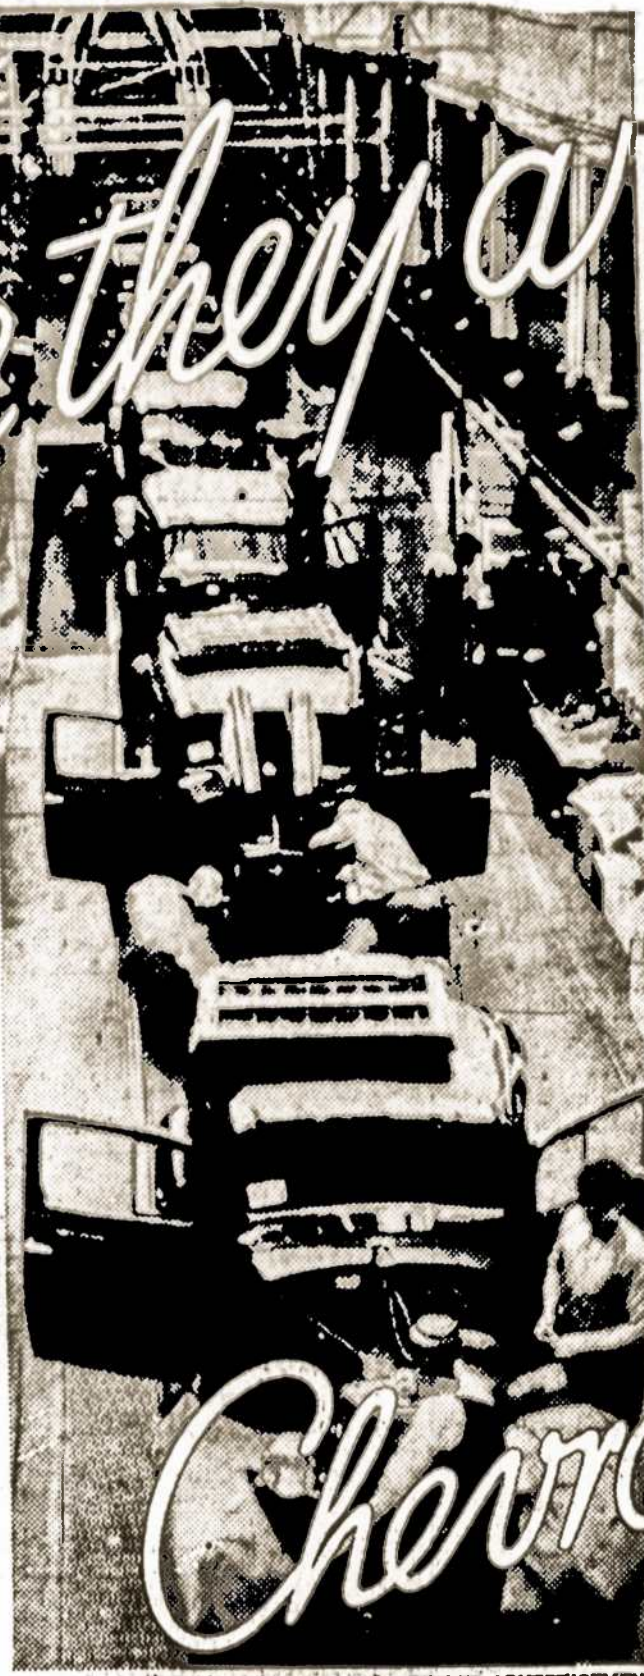

To fill the record-breaking nationwide demand, Chevrolets are being produced at a record-breaking rate of 4000 units a day!

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Drive it only 5 miles and you'll never be satisfied with any other low-priced car

CHEVROLET factories are breaking records, trying to give America all the cars it wants. 4000 units a day are rolling off the assembly lines. In fact, more Chevrolets are now being produced than any other make of automobile in the world.

Naturally, Chevrolet is proud of the record its factories have made this year. Especially so, in view of the fact that the 1934 Chevrolet is not merely last year's model improved, but a basically new automobile throughout. Producing so many of these cars so early in the season, and producing them all up to Chevrolet high standards of quality, is nothing short of a real accomplishment!

Chevrolet takes this opportunity to thank the American public for the wonderful way it has received the 1934 Chevrolet car. And Chevrolet is happy to report, that with over 4,000 cars a day being built, dealers everywhere will soon be in a position to make immediate deliveries.

Twenty four members of Harmony Lodge played the final game of pitch one evening last week with members of the Hinsdale Lodge and were ingloriously defeated by a majority score of 136 points. The victors will be given their reward tonight at the Hotel Northfield in shape of a real Turkey supper with all the trimmings, to be followed by cards.

No sessions will be held in the Mount Hermon School Gymnasium on March 26 and April 2 because of school vacation, but work will be resumed on Monday April 9. Instructor Hendriksen will then begin to prepare for a closing demonstration the last of April, when parents and friends will have an opportunity to see the exercises and recreation the boys enjoy from week to week. Last Monday evening 37 boys were on the floor.

A regular meeting of Harmony Lodge will be held at Masonic Hall Wednesday evening, March 28, when the F. C. Degree will be worked.

Sum Conferences Announcement Season Begins June 25, Ends August 20

Magic Names Of Moody, Mott And Speer Appear As Leaders Of The General Conference

Early Northfield Conferences are recalled here today when it is announced that Dr. John B. Mott and Dr. Paul D. Moody are to be co-chairmen of the General Conference to be held here August 1 to 12 and that Dr. Robert E. Speer will be one of the speakers. Dr. Mott, now chairman of the International Missionary Council, formerly world leader of the Y. M. C. A. and Dr. Speer, Presbyterian Foreign Mission head, were among the original leaders of the Northfield Student Conference and in this way were closely associated with D. L. Moody, founder of the Northfield Conferences, while Dr. Paul Moody, president of Middlebury College, Vt., is the youngest son of the late founder.

This announcement was issued in the form of a "call" following the precedent set by D. L. Moody in August 1880 when he issued a similar invitation to the first Northfield Bible Conference. In addition to the co-chairmen this year's call is signed by Wilfred W. Fry, president of the Board of Trustees of The Northfield Schools, and president of N. W. Ayer & Son, Inc. of Philadelphia; and Elliott Speer, headmaster of Mount Hermon School and local administrative head of The Northfield Schools. The Conferences are under the auspices of The Northfield Schools.

The call reads as follows: "At a time of unprecedented change in values, with the very face of the globe being refashioned politically, economically and socially, it is right and proper to pause to take stock of those things which are eternal and dependent on a throne which does not fall. It is helpful to do it in an atmosphere where the past meets the present, in places hallowed by prayer and memories. To this end an invitation is issued to all interested in the maintenance and expansion of the Kingdom of God to come to the General Conference in Northfield, August 1-12.

"That the addresses and discussions may be unified and of greatest helpfulness, they will all deal this summer with one central theme—'What Think Ye of Christ?'"

(Signed) Wilfred W. Fry
Dr. Paul D. Moody
Dr. John B. Mott
Elliott Speer

After the death of D. L. Moody in 1899 his son, W. R. Moody, carried on the Conference in conformity with the policies of the founder until his death last October. Dr. Mott was then asked by the trustees to assume full responsibility for the leadership of the Conference this summer. Owing to the fact that he had engagements in Europe and Africa which would make it impossible to return to the United States until the second week in August, he was unable to accept, but has lent his constant guidance and advice in the preparation for the Conference, and will be here to share the leadership with Dr. Paul D. Moody in the concluding days.

Others on the General Conference program as speakers include Rev. Adam Burnett of Westbourne Church, Glasgow; Dr. Charles E. Jefferson, honorary minister of the Broadway Tabernacle, New York; Dr. George A. Buttrick of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York; Dr. Paul E. Scherer of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, New York; Dr. W. Douglas Mackenzie, president-emeritus of Hartford Seminary Foundation; and Dr. James Black of St. George's Church, Edinburgh. Dr. Black is the only speaker new to Northfield.

The Conference music will be under the direction of a double quartet selected by Dr. John Finley Williamson from members of the Westminster Choir School of Princeton.

Four other conferences are scheduled for the 1934 season: Girls' June 25 to July 3; Missionary, July 6 to 14; Religious Education, July 17 to 28; Christian Endeavor, August 13 to 20.

A New Poultry Bulletin

The 18 million dozen egg business of Massachusetts is presented in an attractive and interesting manner in a new bulletin just published by the State Department of Agriculture. It is entitled "The Massachusetts Poultryman's Handbook" and may be had without charge on application to the Department of Agriculture, State House, Boston. It was compiled and prepared by Julius Kroeck of the Division of Markets.

Besides the 18,000,000 dozen eggs as an annual output of the Massachusetts poultrymen, the bulletin reports that more than 5,000,000 chickens were raised and that more than half that number were sold alive or dressed. The total value of poultry and eggs sold in 1932 from Massachusetts farms was upward of $9,000,000.

Medicine's Gift To The Public

"A Million Dollars a Day" is the answer to the question recently sent to the medical profession throughout the United States, "How much charity work do you do?" Cards were sent out and 5,823 answers were returned, indicating that the average American doctor contributes 24.58 per cent, or almost one quarter of his time to medical services for which he can expect no compensation. If this be added to another quarter of his time for which he charges, but cannot collect it then appears that about one half of the doctors working hours are given over to free work. Statistics show that in normal times 750 million dollars annually are collected by the medical profession. In these depression years, however this is practically cut in two. This means that $375 million dollars is medicine's gift to the public—slightly more than a million dollars a day. The survey which has resulted in these figures was carefully made by Medical Economics, one of the magazines devoted to the medical art. Without doubt it has revealed a situation which the public did not suspect. Medical charity rests with philanthropic agencies and with local state and national governments—not with the doctor who, though never objecting to the treating of indigent persons, deserves to be paid for his work.

The New Norge Now On Display

On Monday April 2 there will be on display at the Morgan Garage three models of the new Norge Rollator Refrigerator which since it was placed on market seven years ago has attained a remarkable popularity. Those who have installed a Norge find a constant satisfaction in this ideal refrigerator, day in and day out—satisfaction in knowing that it is a permanent investment for years to come. But that is not all that the Rollator assures you. There is economy. Because of its extra power, the Rollator cooling action takes place quickly. Only a little electric current is required and operating costs are very low.

And Norge offers more than mechanical superiority. There are many other original features and exclusive conveniences. The waiting food compartment has every corner rounded for easy cleaning. A spring-hinged door, protecting the freezing compartment, makes it odor-proof. Then there is the famous Viro family—the Icevoir, the Preservoir and Hydrovoir. Additional features, including egg and cheese trays, have been added this year. These refrigerators are sold on most reasonable terms.

Garden Club Meets

The Northfield Garden Club held its first meeting in the reading room of Dickinson Memorial Library Wednesday night, with an attendance of seventeen. Prof. I. J. Lawrence was elected President and Blanche I. Corser, Secretary. Mr. Mayberry of Mt. Hermon and Mr. Charles, Slate with the officers will meet April 2 to draft its constitution and by-laws. Dues have been set very low, only 25 cents a year, so that no one may feel forced to stand aside because of expense. The next meeting, the date of which will be announced later, will be held in April. It is hoped that a speaker from Mass. State College, will be present.

Library Book Wanted

A request is made by the Trustees of Dickinson Memorial Library finding Vol. 3 of a calf bound set of five volumes of American Biography. It is a valuable set, published in 1828 and contains the biographies of all the signers of the Declaration of Independence. It is quite possible that it is on some one's book shelf where it has been overlooked as belonging to the Library. Will you kindly look for it? Its discovery will be greatly appreciated.

Florida People Recall Northfield

Many Former Students
In The Sunny South

The A. G. Moody's Swing 'Round The Circle

A notable company of Northfield people and former students of the Northfield Schools came together Saturday evening March 17, in the charming home of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Newton Thompson at 3733 Solano Road, Coconut Grove, Florida. The visit of Dr. John McDowell, Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, to Miami and Coral Gables influenced the date of this gathering which was honored by the presence of this outstanding graduate of Mt. Hermon. Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Moody of East Northfield were the house guests of the Thompsons and brought greetings and news of the Northfield Schools. Ellis of Philadelphia. Mrs. S. A. Norton of Mt. Hermon was present. She is visiting her son, Dr. Richard Norton, who is the associate of Dr. Kellogg, head of the Battle Creek (Mich.) Sanitarium. Two other reunions of former students of the Schools followed closely upon the one at Coconut Grove. One on the 22nd at the Palm Beach home of Mrs. E. W. Fiske of Waltham, Mass., when seventeen came together to meet Mr. and Mrs. Moody, and another on the 23rd at Stuart, where Mrs. Marion Ballou Fisk was hostess. New Roller For Golf Greens Made By Northfield Man

Philip Porter Invents "The Porcupine" Meets With Approval Of Golfers

The innumerable devotees to the great game of Golf have for many years wanted a process or a machine for aerating and re-seeding golf greens. It has been recognized for a long time a spiked roller was needed and a number of such rollers have been put upon the market, but the spikes were rigid and impractical because they would tear the fine turf and spoil the green. It remained for one of our townsmen to invent a spiked roller which will perforate the turf without injury to the grass, and already this roller has been accepted as one of the very best on the market. Its inventor is Philip Porter and he has obtained for it a patent from the U. S. Patent office. It is shown in the accompanying picture. Mr. Porter has called it the "Porcupine" because of the fact that as it is pushed or pulled along the ground it throws out its "quills" or spikes in proper and most effective position. The roller consists of an outer slatted cylinder composed of independent rods. On these inner rods a series of sleeve castings, each containing a hardened steel spike swing back and forth between the bars of the outer cylinder. Each spike punches a perfect hole, one and one-fourth inches deep, and leaves the ground without the slightest injury to the turf, the secret being that the spikes enter and leave the ground perpendicularly as they swing on their bearings while the roller proceeds. Several of these rollers have been sold in different parts of the country and the best of recommendations have come from those who have used them. They are now in use in Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey and Ohio. Since there are six thousand golf courses in the United States the sales possibilities are very large. The roller is constructed of best cast iron and steel. It is on carrier wheels which transport it from one green to another. It weighs 225 lbs. and sells for $135.00 F. O. B. Northfield.

Mr. Gray preached from the subject, "An Hour in the Rose-garden of God."

An excellent book was written a few years ago by Basil King.
He called it "The Conquest of Fear." It was a sort of biographical story of his own experiences, but his readers usually read themselves into it because it is a good story of the silly fears which the most of us have. We are ashamed of them, but try as we may we can't get rid of them. We acquired a good many when we were children. It is likely that they were given to us by others. Our parents, our brothers or sisters or other well intentioned, but misguided friends. And so as children we became afraid of the dark, afraid of the storm cloud, of the thunder and the lightning, of snakes and certain animals and people.

Everybody is afraid of something or of somebody. The man in business is usually afraid that his competitor will hurt him financially. The doctor, the lawyer, the preacher fears some one will hurt him professionally. Too many of us by far imagine we have enemies lying in wait for us, watching for a chance to injure us. This is not true, but so long as we think it is true we are miserable. The fear of people is as bad as the fear of a pestilence which reminds us of another very common fear, the fear of sickness. In all probability there are millions of people who are really sick because they have thought themselves into it. With nothing else to worry them they have turned their eyes inward and worried about their health. Mr. King, in his book, declares that people are afraid of every known ailment and the most of us have our pet diseases which we expect to have. He confesses that his pet disease is a mastoid complaint which his mother had, but he has already lived longer than she did and it has not yet claimed him. He says that whenever there is considerable talk of cancer he is afraid he has one, or will have, and when influenza germs are said to be filling the air he is quite sure he has taken in enough of them to give him the disease. And so it goes. We are all alike. Worry and fear are very popular habits. The search for symptoms is a favorite indoor and outdoor sport and its real joy is in finding what we look for. It has been well said that he who fears a disease and dies of it dies twice.
Away with fear. The secret of health is vitality, the secret of vitality is joy. Two things cannot occupy the same space. Fear and joy cannot occupy the same heart.
One will rout the other as sure as fate. Which one? Every one of us must decide. It is up to us to make joy and faith and hope crowd out misgivings, doubts and fears. And Easter time is a good time to do this.

Easter is the day of joy and faith and hope and it comes with the command, "Fear not."

THE EDITOR'S SONG

How dear to my heart is the steady subscriber, Who pays in advance at the birth of each year, Who lays down a dollar, and offers it gladly.
And casts 'round the office a halo of cheer!
Who never says, "Stop it, I cannot afford it!"
Or "I'm getting more papers than I can read." But always says, "Send it, the family all like it—"
In fact, we think it a household need.
How welcome he is when he steps in the sanctum!
How he makes our hearts thrill!
How he makes our eyes dance!
We outwardly thank him—we inwardly bless him—
The steady subscriber who pays in advance.

MEASLES

"The other day Johnnie came home from school with a running nose. I didn't pay much attention to it and he played with his younger brothers and sisters. Today, Johnnie is broken out and the doctor says it is measles. I suppose all the children will get it."

"I hear they have measles over at Mrs. Smith's. I guess I will send my four-year-old Sarah over so she will catch the disease and have it over with."

"There is measles in the community. I am so afraid Deborah will get them. She is very subject to colds and had pneumonia a year ago. I am worried."

These are remarks which may be heard in any community when measles are present. It is the common opinion of many that everyone must have the measles and that it is a good idea to get it over with quickly. It is true that most people do not escape measles but it makes a big difference to the individual whether the measles occurs at ten or at two. In the early years of life measles is an extremely dangerous disease due to the complicating pneumonia, and every parent should endeavor to delay the onset of this disease to a time when the child can have it with less danger of complications.
Older children, if sickly, should be treated the same as the very young. The blood serum of individuals who have had the disease, if injected into the child after ex-posure, will either entirely prevent the disease or modify it to a mild form. It is sometimes impossible to get blood serum from a person who has recently recovered from the measles and in these cases parents' blood can be tried. Many cases are on record where the blood of parents who had the disease from ten to twenty years before has saved their little child from the serious consequences of this disease. Due to the fact that measles starts as an ordinary cold, it cannot be diagnosed in its early stages and many children are exposed before they know that the disease is present. Keeping the child away from others prevents infection. As this is extremely difficult, every parent with little children and sickly children should know the value of immune serum an should make use of it.

J. E. N. Will you kindly let me know if a severe throat infection is contagious.

Ans. A severe throat infection is due to the presence of certain germs which cause an inflammation. These germs may be passed from one person to another, depending upon the intimacy of the contact.

N. L. I smoke a pipe and cigarettes. I have had and still have a burning sensation on the tongue, —no lumps or tumors. Is that a sign of cancer? Please send me your booklet "Successful Living." Ans. Conditions in the mouth considered possibly precancerous, requiring the opinion of a physician, are any sore or white spot that persists for, say three weeks on the tongue, lips, palate, cheek or gums. The burning sensation you mention is probably not of precancerous significance, but if it persists, it would be wise to ask your doctor's advice as to its cause. We suggest you check up on your health habits, especially on your diet and elimination. They may be at fault. We are sending you our booklet "Successful Living," also the "What's and Whys of Cancer."

M. F. L. What progress has been made in the discovery of "heavy water" and its relation to the cure of cancer?

Ans. Surgery and radiation are the only accepted treatments for cancer. "Heavy water" has no place in cancer therapy.

Girls Barred From Skating

In these days when skating is not only one of the most pleasurable sports for girls as well as boys and when nothing is more fascinating than an exhibit of the marvelous skill of the professional skater especially when the girls hold equal honors with the boys, it seems strange that there was a time when skating by the feminine sex was considered shocking. In Iowa, at least, it was tabooed, says The Des Moines Register which reprints an editorial from the Mc-Graw-Hill Times as follows:

"There is much talk and written about this new exercise of women's rights. A plate in Harper's Holiday Pictorial will cure most ladies of all desire to learn the sublime art of converting their pedal extremities into sled runners.
"A handsome girl with outer garments well tucked up and under limbs more than half exhibited, her delicate footless shod with iron, a la horse, showing her self on a slide at a time over the glossy surface of the frozen lake, first one foot and then the other pushed three to four feet ahead of the perpendicular, and alternate foot of course that distance to the rear, while a parcel of curidity-loving males are hurrahing over the gracefulness with which the ambitious fair one plays boy, must be a picture which the imagination of both saint and sinner would long retain."

"Skating is healthy and so is hunting, fishing and ball playing, but the profits of exercise can be obtained by walking, and if that were practiced more, there would be no necessity for girls to un-dressed themselves for the amusement of the crowd. When girls take to see they stand on slippery places. Let female skating therefore be abolished."

Cleveland Convention On Education

Several thousand delegates assembled in the 664th annual convention of the Department of Superintendence of the National Education Association at Cleveland, Ohio, February 24th to March 1st.
Leaders from every field of education were in attendance, with the largest number representing some type of school administration.

Paul C. Stetson, Superintendent of Schools, Indianapolis, Ind., and president of the Department, reorganized the procedure of the convention. The creation of a large number of active committees to discuss the critical problems of school administration was a significant feature of the procedure. These committees, 77, with a total aggregate membership of 4,000, directed their attention mainly upon such matters as the adaptation of the school curriculum to the rapidly changing social order, the education of children and adults in worthy leisure, the problems of employment and vocational guidance and the relation of the school to social services of all kinds.

A score or more of committees considered such technical but highly important matters as tax reforms, relationship between school and municipal finance, child accounting and public relations.
One committee outlined a five-year plan for the work of the Department of Superintendence.

"Any educational pattern which remains unchanged the next three years," said Dr. Stetson when describing the purpose of the new plan of procedure, "will be outmoded as a wooden battleship in modern naval warfare. This change in convention procedure not only reflects the willingness and ability of the school leader to adapt to the new conditions which we face; it revitalizes a time honored practice which has for more than half a century helped keep the services of the school equal to current needs."

At nine general sessions more than 50 well known leaders in education, business and politics discussed the future of education and its relation to national life. Senator Royal S. Copeland, chairman of the Committee on Crime and Racketeering of the U. S. Senate, spoke on the responsibilities of the school for the prevention of racketeering, kidnapping and other forms of crime. Edward A. Filene, Boston merchant, discussed the topic "Education in This New Age," and Howell Cheney, secretary of Cheney Brothers, silk manufacturers addressed a session of the convention on the subject of the relationship of the high school to present economic trends.

Dr. George F. Zook, U. S. Commissioner of Education, in addressing one session of the convention said:

"Democracy is on trial throughout the world as never before in history."

"In more than one country, democratic government has been supplanted by some form of centralized action simply because public intelligence and the spirit of unity are insufficient to enable people to realize their hopes and aspirations. By performing two services," Dr. Zook said, "the schools and colleges may play an important part in preserving this country from a similar fate:

"1. They should discover and teach the country a better system of distribution for the goods it produces so the standard of living may be lifted to as high a plane as the standard of production."
"2. They should spread education more widely among the people, especially among adults, so the nations may meet its problems with a higher standard of comprehension."

AMUSEMENTS

DEATH'S HOLIDAY UNUSUAL THEME OF NEWEST FILM

Never before in the history of the American photoplay has a picture been so excellently cast as in Paramount's superb "Death Takes a Holiday" which will be shown at the Auditorium Theatre, Brattleboro, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Fredric March in the starring role makes another bid for the best acting award of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences which he won for his role in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" in 1932.

Evelyn Venable, formerly leading lady to Walter Hampden, is serenely beautiful in the featured feminine role.
Sir Guy Standing, Kent Taylor, Katherine Alexander, Henry Travers, Kathleen Howard and G. P.
Huntley, Jr., complete the cast of superb actors each of whom gives an outstanding performance in a place that demands the best.

"Death Takes a Holiday" is based upon the play by Alberto Casella, adapted into English by Walter Ferris.
Its frankly provocative theme concerns the problem of Death taking three-day holiday that he may study life, learn why men love living and fear the eternal parting.

"Death Takes a Holiday" is a picture you can't afford to miss.
It is one of the great productions of the screen, rich in beauty and drama.
On a rainy day recently a lady in a cable coat got on a Madison Avenue street-car. "I don't suppose I've ridden on a street-car in two years," she said to the conductor, a gloomy fellow, as she gave him her fare. "I ride in my own car," she explained.
The conductor rang up the fare.
"You don't know how we've missed you," he said. New York Morning Telegraph.

Prizes For Hand-made Rugs

Hooked and braided rugs will replace handmade quilts in the revival of early American handicrafts at the Eastern States Exposition form Sept. 16 to 22 inclusive.

Rugs to be eligible for entry must be hand made, and may be of any size in either of the three classes, but must be suitable for use in the average home. They may be either modern or antique, but no rug will be accepted unless entirely finished and in good condition.
Entries will be limited to three specimens by individual owners and may be made in any or all of the three classes. Rugs must be the property of the entrants but not necessarily their own handiwork. Entries must be made on or before June 15 and received for judging not later than August 1st.
All entries will be marked with the owner's name following the judging, and will be on public display during the week of the Exposition.

Awards of the judges will be based upon the following points: workmanship, beauty of design, a harmony of color. There will be five cash awards in each class and in addition, special ribbon awards to the first twenty placings in each class.
"Have you ever done a lick of work?" demanded the angry housewife of the tramp.
"Lady," he retorted, "if you think asking dimes like you for a bite to eat ain't work you don't know what work is." Cincinnati

Byrd Expedition to Hear Easter Sermon

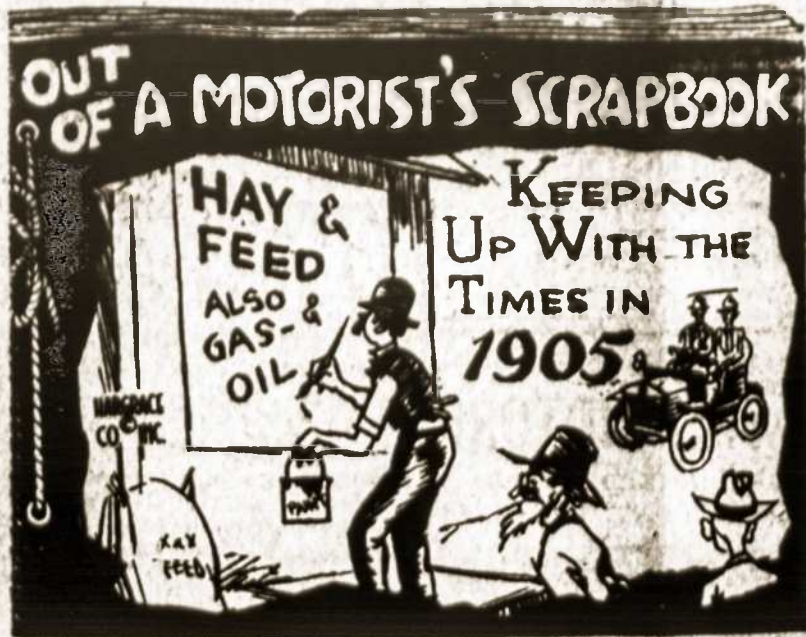

WHEN Easter dawns in the Antarctic, there won't be any dress parade on the main street of Little America. Nevertheless, the members of Admiral Byrd's second expedition will experience a real touch of the Easter Spirit when Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, noted pastor of Riverside Church, New York, delivers a special sermon to them by short wave radio. The eminent clergyman's message will be heard by the 56 isolated explorers ten thousand miles away—and listeners in this country—at 10 p.m., eastern standard time, March 31, over the Columbia network.
